THE MURDER TRIAL.

An Array of Witnesses Still Testifying to Dillion's Insanity.

The third day of the trial of M. W. Dillon passed off with the examination of witnesses for the defence. Dillon has a host of friends in the city and all are trying to help him. A desperate effort is being made on the part of the defence to at least save Dilion from the severest ponalty that can be imposed under the territorial law. The prisoner sat near his counsel all day. He seems to bear up well and he has told was the next witness to take the stand. Live in Orden. Am acquainted with Dillon. Saw him on the day of the shooting about noon. Saw him at the city jail. I called him to the window. I said to him. "Mailachi, what in the world have you been dedng?" He says, "How much is my fine? I will pay it and getour." I said to him. "Pay your fine. Mailchi? you must be crary, you have killed a man." Dillon said they had told him that he had had trouble with a man by the name of Mithheil, but be couldn't place him. I told him be had better get through his pre-liminary hearing as fast as possible, as he was limble to be lynched. I told him he was in a very bad box and that he had better get out of town as soon as he could. He seemed to be in a stupor.

Live in Germania, Utah. Got acquainted with Dilion in 1884, in Rawlins. Knew Dilion before the trouble with his wife. Never knew him to drink. I was railroading while at Rawlins. Came off the road one morning, and on my way home I met Dilion near the railroad crossing with a club over his shoulder. His eyes looked glazed and he was bareheaded. I said to him, "My God, Maischi, what are you doing?" He answered that someone was trying to marder him. I formed the opinion that Dilion was crary.

Cross examination—Knew Dilion since 1884. He had seen the defendant in his saloon, but had no knowledge of him drinking any.

CHARLES NATHEWS called and testified: I reside in Rawlins, Have lived there since 'TA. Have known Dillon since 1881. Knew him before the trouble wish his wife and brother, and have noticed a great change in him since. Have heard him complain of insomnia and of seeing his brother Dan. Have seen him break glasses by crushing them in his hand. I was in Major's place in Rawlins one time, saw him come in and buy some wine. When the wine was served, he splited it on the floor and called for more. When it was served those with him drank and he poured his out on the floor. His eyes looked like a wild cut's eyes. Have noticed him break off in a conversation and say someone was going to murder him. I formed an opinion that the man was crazy at times.

Mothers frequently make a mistake in neglecting the cough of a child. A Fort Wayne, Ind., lady writes: My little daughter 5 years old had a severe cough but as it was nothing unusual I thought nothing of it, and allowed it to run on for 4 or 5 weeks, when it became so obstinate she began losing fiesh. I called in a physician who treated her three weeks without benefit. A neighbor insisted upon my trying Ballard's Horehound Syrup; it relleved her from the first dose and she began gaining fiesh rapidly. When we had used two bottles her cough had entirely disappeared. I would not be without it. It does not constipate my children, Ballard's Horebound Syrup is free from Opiates. It's the most soothing Throat and Lung medicine in the world. Price 50c. and $1.00.
